

ICL PRESS RELEASE

January 26, 2009

Dear Valued Customer,

The following is a press release announcing that ICL will begin calling the Port of Wilmington, North Carolina from March 25th 2009. This will replace the current Port call in Richmond Virginia.

The change is being made to improve our overall service levels to you and will at the same time expand our service scope in and out of States in the U.S. that are better served by a South Atlantic Port of entry and exit.

Your Existing cargo currently carried by ICL through the Port of Richmond will, from the 25th March, be routed either through Wilmington NC or Chester PA depending on its Geographic origin or destination. The terms and conditions that you currently enjoy with ICL will be honored for their full validity period.

The ICL team is excited about the new opportunities that the Port Of Wilmington NC will bring to enhance and grow ICL service in the Atlantic Trade.

Your Sales and Customer Service staff will be contacting you personally to discuss the change in ports, how it effects you, and most importantly to ensure a seamless transition for you and your customers.

On behalf of all of us at ICL we appreciate your support and look forward to continuing our world class service to you.

John Kirkland CEO and Dale Ross COO.

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

ICL to Call Wilmington, NC

Richmond, VA – January 26, 2009 - Independent Container Line Ltd. (ICL) announces a change in its USA port calls. As of the 25th of March the port call in Richmond, Virginia will be discontinued and replaced with a port call at Wilmington, North Carolina.

ICL's award winning service will continue with the following weekly, fixed-day port rotation:

Antwerp, BE – Liverpool, UK – Chester/Philadelphia, PA –
Wilmington, NC

ICL has served the North Atlantic for 24 years and the company has offices in Antwerp, Liverpool and Richmond. ICL's corporate headquarters will remain in Richmond, Virginia.